Scarlett Wing is a pen name for the creative team at Cottage Door Press. We use a name like this when we work together on a story. We choose a name that stands for "red bird," which is our cheerful little mascot.

Don't know why this one is rated lower than the rest of the books in the series only con is price

My 1 year old daughter has loved these books since she was 4 months old. She really enjoys lifting the flaps and her second real word "car" came from one of these books!

Perfect size for little hands and fingers to open flaps!

Cute and interesting for my 17-month-old Grandson.

These are the best books ever! My 7 month old could open the flaps all by himself. They are so cute!

I have other opposite-themed books that were better. My son loves the older Bunnies by the Bay "Where's Puppy" version with the dog on every page. He also likes the newer Bunnies By the Bay "Opposites" book with a fabric dog on the front cover. Both of those books had more examples and the images were pretty clear so I liked those better. I do own a number of Babies Love books and love them - its just I do not like this particular one because the images of the opposites need to be more drastic or clearer.

Cute but not the most direct way to show opposites

Got this book for a first birthday gift for a friend. It has big flaps for baby to lift up with part of the story under the flaps. Seems durable. I want one for my own daughter!
