These have the correct information for studying however the ones you get from the government book store are laminated and much larger so you can use a dry erase marker and practice writing on them. I wish the size of the cards and the fact that they aren't laminated like the others sold by government book store was in the product details. I would of rather paid an additional 10$ to the government book store to get the others.

these are great for my student who I am tutoring for her citizenship test. very handy and easy to use.

Excellent
